

Attachment 1: Messages, bordering inappropriate, Mr. Pugh sent me right after leaving the monastery. This is just a selection since the whole packet is hundreds of pages (!).

The borderline inappropriateness stems from the fact that at least from my part, we had a purely professional relationship.

scary to me, manipulating those.

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com
10/5/18, 6:19 PM

spark plugs done

maybe I can find another retailer of the shelf system

10/5/18, 8:33 PM

with applied recommendations. I made a few more changes as well, but not a great deal. does it look any smoother.

 Resume - WIP

Just driving home from PFP, will look at it when I get home!

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

yes please do not look at it on the road! I am heading off for reading/bed so don't worry about it for tonight.

Thank you very much for the suggestions though. I hope it looks a little more streamlined.

i really shouldn't text you while you drive

made one more change

 Resume - WIP

10/6/18, 9:08 AM

Yes, this looks great.

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

Bookcase project: yes and no. We're not sure how long I will be at home at this point, so we will not start anything until then. The library/tv room has a built-in shelf across the length of one wall. However, it only goes up 1/3 of the wall. We could use some more space, my parents are gradually changing the trim in the house to match the remodeled bathrooms and the shelf needs to match this, The tv also being in this area needs to fit somehow with an a/v shelf/cabinet underneath. I am trying to come up with some measurements and a design in order to gauge how much material we will need to complete it... that is if they don't have the cabinet maker do the project.

That sounds like a very exciting project! But also, it must be quite difficult not knowing when you start your job... I hope they will tell you something in Omaha when you visit. Do you know yet when you are going to visit? My favorite part of woodworking has always been the planning part, so meanwhile at least you can do that!

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

yes, Mom and I are looking for ideas right now. I enjoy it until my eyes are ready to fall out of my head (which point I haven't gotten close to yet).

Would you send me a picture of your bookcase? I just want to show my Mom.

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

It should be nice... if it gets built. Material hasn't been decided. The cabinet fronts made for the remodel were white oak I think. Mom and dad really like it, but I think if we matched the stain it wouldn't matter too much.

The stain shouldn't be exact by any means, but they really like the color

That should be really nice, I like oak a lot (but only have worked with red oak, for my table). What color is the stain?

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

In fact I think it is more a stain decision if you ask me, not wood issue...

i am not sure the color

I asked mom but she says our cabinet maker made it himself... or mixed it himself

Well, I think oak is quite distinctive, the grain definitely makes a difference.

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

well, I don't have guests yet. They should be arriving within an hour

Take your resume with you, just in case.

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

yes, omelette is exactly what I was thinking

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

practicing for my sister and I this morning.

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com
10/8/18, 9:42 PM

Rain all day long. Good day. It was great to talk with Matt. Not sure about the position, but the Dean asked me to send in my resume. He indicated they are not wanting to move too fast in hiring someone. After visiting, I will need some time to think and pray about it. If you want I can tell you about it, but I am ready to fall over right now.

I received the email from Fiona. I am eager to check it out. I should find this interview Shelby Foote (Walker's writer friend) we watched for class; you might like it.

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com
10/9/18, 8:54 AM

Would you have time to talk this afternoon? I am going out with my mom this morning.

10/9/18, 10:38 AM

I'll be back around noon

Yes, that would be great. Today is a busy day; I just taught 2 sections and then have an independent study and then Latin group, but maybe when we are done with that? Would around 4:30 be good? Or any time after.

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

But Allison's story isn't over yet, and neither is yours. Yes, I enjoyed talking with you as well. I am looking forward to nudli.

Yes, that's true. Really looking forward to the end of the story (both of them...).

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com
10/10/18, 8:05 AM

me too

10/10/18, 11:09 AM

Trying to keep the basil alive! Brought it in the this morning

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

yes Miss. I will get on that. Ask the Archbishop about growing poppies with his mother. She would sell the seed as income for the family. He remembers planting them with her.

You know this is sounding better all the time.

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

The recipe is in metric... 500 grams is about a pound of potatoes?

Well, I cannot criticize about where you get your ideas...

I have mine in strange places

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

potatoes are boiled and peeled. I am just waiting for it to cool down. I don't have cheese because mom got held up with my sister. I'm not sure what I should use maybe I'll just use the sour cream, and basil... do you just dip them in it or put it on top?

I think I need to make them and get an idea of the flavor, so I can mix other things with them

I wonder, can you save the dough very long? Does it freeze?

Sorry, I just got home... Well, I have never tried freezing it, but I don't see why you couldn't. Actually, I think my grandma did, but I think she did it after cooking it. On its own it has a very neutral flavor; you can basically treat it as a kind of pasta, so whatever you would eat with pasta, you can eat with this too (and yes, I do eat sour cream with pasta on its own, however weird that may sound...). Did you try it?

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

Oh, I hope you can get in the yard. It would be good to be outside. You've had enough rainy-reading days. It's time for some real Fall weather. You know knit hats, jackets, and leaves fire... fire is also for fall.

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

Good news, I like the cabbage so it will be fun and tasty to experiment. I don't know many cabbage dishes. I love sauerkraut.

Yes, thank you. sleep well with the cabbages

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

hmm.. I would love to. I am just trying to get the most out of the trip so I can spend time with you all... you know trying to plan ahead haha

Yes, of course. Also, I'm not sure about the plan, but I think Charles and Matt might be here on Sunday too (maybe only for Sat, I really don't know). So if you are here on Sun, you could see them too.

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

Are you more free on Sunday to hang out or Tuesday evening Wednesday morning?

Well, I'm free all Sunday (except possibly for schola practice), and Mon morning too. But also free Tue afternoon from 3 or so and Wed morning; so for me both would really be good.

I think Dan and Fiona probably can't leave much before 5 on Tuesday.

iMessage with wpugh25@gmail.com

I think I will watch Grand Budapest tonight

Well, then perhaps Sunday evening and Monday morning would be best